

Chair report 2023

This year has been another interesting one....

As the country reels in the financial wake of the Covid fiascos and ripple effects through the economy, the martial arts sector has not been without effect.

But this is the time that we should practising what we preach to ourselves. Standing tall yet relaxed, persevering through pain barriers and discomfort to be able to have a stance that can endure hard times and facilitate the required actions from ourself to the world around us. Kung fu has always been about life more than it has been about combat but life is full of confronting challenges ;)

With that, I can't wait to see this spring season of regeneration at the conference in Mona Vale, Sydney the annual pilgrimage from around the country where we catch up with old and new friends, get inspired by the teachings of our beloved seniors, find some new way to think about old things and maybe even share a musing with another kung fu brother or sister.

Can't wait to see another productive AGM where we will elect the committee for 2024 and take nominations for 2024's conference host.

Notions for new and interesting ways the Federation can support our membership community are also encouraged, so if you can't attend in person (full members) please nominate your proxy votes asap !!!

Looking forward to some chi sao on the beach with whoever wants to join 😊
